E04/25	To receive a presentation and update from Kim Waters on the work of the Welsh Rivers Union. The presentation highlighted the causation and effects of pollution in local rivers. e.g. climate change flooding - intensive arable farming practices – winter sowing, ploughing to the edge of streams/reens/rivers, soil/fertilizer runoff; release of sewage from Welsh Water installations adding phosphates and chemical waste; intensive livestock farming – slurry from dairy and poultry, with runoff/dumping. Effects: loss of species and habitat. Salmon, Shad, Trout and habitat support such as Ranunculus aquatilis - water crowfoot (protected species) are under threat of extinction even in SAC areas.
